Project Overview

Western Sydney University is embarking on an expansion of its prestigious Vice-Chancellery offices, located in the Executive Building of its Parramatta South Campus.

Delivered over two stages, Stage 1 includes the repurposing of adjacent teaching spaces, which will be refurbished to seamlessly integrate with the existing Vice-Chancellery space. Stage 2 involves the refurbishment and reconfiguration of existing areas within the Vice-Chancellery's northern wing, to improve its functionality.

The refurbished space will include a formal boardroom and a range of informal meeting rooms, event and quiet reflection spaces, private and open plan offices, gallery spaces and lounge areas, along with a range of amenities, including kitchens, alfresco dining spaces, a hot desk area and restrooms.

The interior design has been completed by Grimshaw, with the project further supported by a consulting team consisting of Northrop, Altus Group, Group DLA and AECOM.

The Problem

Western Sydney University required the refurbished space be delivered by 2 March 2020, under a tight fixed budget.

Our Solution

Solutions Consulting Australia was engaged to leverage its extensive project management experience to ensure the refurbishment was delivered within the strict timeframe and to an extremely high standard. This included working closely with the design team and builder to review and identify opportunities where the program could be escalated to meet the tight deadline.
